

"Are you willing to give your life to God? God will take your gift, transform it, use it for the love of your sisters and brothers and fill you with joy ... God wastes none of what we give him and leads us where he needs us most."

-Archbishop Sartain

QUO VADIS DAYS

The Christian vocation always implies renewing the personal friendship with Jesus Christ, which gives meaning to one's life and makes it available for the Kingdom of God. The Church lives from this friendship, nourished by the word and the sacraments, holy realities entrusted in a particular way to the ministry of priests, consecrated by the sacrament of holy orders. For this reason the mission of the priest is irreplaceable and, although in some regions there is a lack of clergy, there is no doubt that God continues to call adolescents and youth to leave all to dedicate themselves to the preaching of the Gospel.

-Pope Benedict XVI

Quo Vadis?

Where are you going?

"Quo Vadis" is the Latin phrase for "Where are you going?" Legend tells us that St. Peter asked Jesus this question on the outskirts of Rome. And we know where Jesus went in response to His Father's will.

Quo Vadis Days is a 3-day camp for young Catholic men to learn more about the priesthood, to deepen their faith, and to better discern God's call in their lives.

What is the Father's will for me?
How can I know what God wants?

Quo Vadis Days is a camp experience sponsored by the Archdiocese of Seattle Vocations Office to provide a time of fun, prayer, and talks to help you explore the Lord's call in your life.

There will be priests, seminarians, and other young men like you gathered together for these days. Our activities will include prayer, swimming, talks and discussions.

We hope that you will consider taking time to discern the Lord's will in your life with us at QVDays. It is a great opportunity to let the Lord speak to you and to spend time listening to Him.

The number of participants will be limited, so call or register soon!
